

TWO DAY WORKSHOP

PERSONAL EXCELLENCE For Women Leaders

Increasing Personal & Professional Competence

Leadership excellence is not about being perfect. It is not about doing more, doing it faster or about being better. Excellence is about living, leading and working from within; from a place of self-compassion so that your choices and your behavior reflect you and your uniqueness. Real courage and real leadership is those who choose this path.

Personal Excellence for Women Leaders is a two day interactive course that helps women leaders dive deep and see themselves more clearly. Everything you are as a leader passes on. This course helps you transform from within so that you are more aware, more present and lead from a place of excellence not perfection. Perfection impedes leadership and burns women out.

Self-Awareness:

It's been said that a lack of self-awareness can contribute to 90% of workplace problems. This course will help you honestly confront yourself and overcome self-sabotaging behaviors:

- recognize self-defeating patterns and cycles that impede your leadership
- establish boundaries, communicate what is you and your organization and what is not you
- design your leadership path by your priorities and not the expectations of others
- get control of your work life and stop allowing all the 'clutter' into your world
- recognize energy drainers and how to stop them
- reduce guilt and address over-stress, perfectionism and people-pleasing

Learn about your impact on others:

Knowing yourself is only half the equation. As a leader, you must consider your impact on others:

- how to improve your relationships through direct communication (and why you may struggle with this)
- the destructive patterns of passive, aggressive, and passive-aggressive communication
- how a lack of boundaries, mounting stress, and a lack of focus affect those you lead including you
- how to improve communication and the link to self-awareness and limiting beliefs.

“Aha!” moments:

“I've learned this starts with me. This course will help with my current work situation.”

“This course has helped me understand who I am and how I work.”

“Loved all the discussions, assessments and the content. Best workshop I've taken yet for sure!”

“I learned to be accountable for myself, to be more honest, direct and assertive. Very practical and hands on learning. I realize that stress is such a block to productive leadership.”

TESTIMONIAL FROM LEADERSHIP

The Personal Excellence course offered many 'aha's' to our team. To a person, we experienced growth on a personal and professional level. Wendy Turner-Larsen masterfully unlocks beliefs and behaviors that impede business performance and teamwork. Her practical and engaging approach influenced even the most stubborn among us to take a good long look in the mirror and recognize self-created patterns.”
